

Parenting as an adult survivor of childhood sexual abuse

What is your story?

Are you a parent who is a survivor of childhood sexual abuse?

Would you be open to taking part in a confidential interview to discuss your experiences?

If so, I would like to hear from you.

I am a social work student, who is conducting a small scale research project to investigate the impact of child sexual abuse on parenting. My findings will help inform my future social work practice.

Information obtained from the interviews will form part of a dissertation that will be submitted in September 2010. If you choose to take part, your identity will remain anonymous and any personally identifying information, relating to you, will not be included in the paper.
